

Thomas the Tank Pencil Holder

What you'll need:

- A cup, jar or can
- 2 pieces of blue construction paper
- 1 piece of black construction paper
- Scissors
- Glue and tape

How to make your Thomas the Tank Pencil Holder

- With your scissors, cut a long strip of blue construction paper that is wide enough to cover the sides of your container.
- Wrap the strip around the container and secure with a piece of tape or glue.
- Cut out the Thomas face provided on this sheet.
- With glue, mount the face on to the other piece of blue construction paper. Once dry, cut around the face leaving a blue border about ½ inch wide.
- To make a smoke stack, cut a strip of black construction paper that is about 4 inches long and 1 inch wide. Tape or glue this piece to the back of the face with part of the strip sticking out at the top.
- Glue the face with the smoke stack to the container.
- Once dry, begin using your pencil holder!
